Thank you for visiting your local branch of Kent District Library!

Library staff members are not tax experts; therefore, legal and ethical codes prohibit librarians from choosing income tax forms for you, giving income tax advice or opinions, or providing tax research.

For these reasons, staff must limit assistance to providing some basic tax forms, suggesting library materials that might be helpful to you, assisting you in locating these materials, and showing you how to find information in them.

We will be happy to suggest sources that may contain the material you need and show you how to use them. Links to Federal, State, and Local tax sites are available through our KDL web site. We will also assist you in finding and printing tax forms on the internet when possible.

Normal printing and copy fees will apply to all tax forms printed from the internet or copied, currently 15¢ / page.

You may wish to consult one of the federal or local agencies listed for assistance in meeting your needs for tax advice and services.

Thank you,

KDL STAFF
